

Bio Stimulant - Hat-Trick D

A bacillus amyloliquefaciens wettable powder product that differentiates itself from similar strain products by the fact that it is marine-based. This product provides immediate growth spurts to all forms of plant life when applied as a foliar or seed treatment. Research all over the world with this product has demonstrated its use as a soil amendment that can achieve the same or better result with a 30-50% reduction in nitrogen application. It is also very effective for plant growth and has many disease preventing properties when sprayed as a foliar application.
